YOUR LETTERS

Thank you Mackay

I'D LIKE to say a huge thank you to the Mackay community for helping to make myPHN Conference 2018 such a success last weekend.

The event saw nearly 350 primary health professionals visit the Mackay Entertainment and Convention Centre (MECC) over three days, with delegates attending more than 60 sessions, an awards event, pre-conference workshops, forums, and panel discussions.

Aside from the economic benefit for Mackay in hosting the event, the biggest plus for me was seeing how the Mackay community warmly welcomed our guests, and demonstrated the vibrancy of North Queensland communities.

Everyone played their part to ensure our visitors had the best possible experience, including the hotel staff, restaurants, and taxi drivers who made sure they enjoyed their stay in Mackay to the full.

I'd like to thank the Member for Dawson, George Christensen, for attending, and Mayor Greg Williamson for his presence throughout the weekend, as well as Mackay Regional Council for its sponsorship and support.

I'd also like to thank all staff at the MECC, especially those who provided such wonderful hospitality service at this superb venue. The biggest compliment I can pay is that many guests told me personally that the five-star quality food, drinks and service at the MECC was of a higher standard than they have experienced in major cities.

So, congratulations to the people of Mackay and thank you once again for your support, we could not have done it without you.

As CEO of the region's local Primary Health Network, it was a privilege to be able to bring this key health event to Mackay.
